New multi-factor authentication requirements [1]

April 2, 2018

Effective April 17, multi-factor authentication (MFA) will be required for faculty and staff to access the following systems from off campus: Outlook Web Access (OWA), Office365 (mail.duke.edu), and Time and Attendance. Students will need MFA to access Box (box.duke.edu), Sakai (sakai.duke.edu) and Duke email (mail.duke.edu).

This requirement is part of Duke’s continuing online security protections, and is consistent with protections used across the Internet. MFA (also called advanced or two-step authentication) provides an additional layer of security when logging in or performing transactions online and at Duke by requiring you to use a second factor, typically via a phone or separate passcode, to authenticate.

Learn more and sign up for MFA online [2].

Source URL: https://security.duke.edu/news-alerts/new-multi-factor-authentication-requirements

Links